

A glass of pink dessert martini sits on a silver tray. The glass is filled with a smooth, pink liquid, topped with a dusting of nutmeg. The glass is placed on a brown leather coaster with a white stitching border. In the background, there are two glass vases with flowers: one with white lilies and one with red carnations. The tray is set on a light-colored, patterned surface. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image, partially obscuring the background.
